Understanding, Certification and Consent

If it is determined that you have an adverse credit history, Direct Loans will send you information on obtaining an endorser or filing an appeal. If you are unable to obtain an endorser, your student may be eligible for an additional Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loan in his/her name.

- If your loan request was subsequently approved by obtaining a credit worthy endorser or by meeting the “extenuating circumstances” provisions as part of your appeal process you must then complete Plus Credit Counseling at www.studentaid.gov.

If there is a credit balance in your student’s tuition account after the institutional charges have been paid, this credit balance will be refunded to your student in his/her name.

- The credit balance created from the PLUS loan after all charges have been paid may be issued directly to you as the borrower. To arrange for the refund of the credit balance to go to you the borrower, you must request this in writing prior to the disbursement of the funds. Please note: Checks made out to parents can take an additional 21 days to be released.
